W. J. Richards, Commissioner.

To the Salvation Army in Canada East, Newfoundland, and Bermuda!

"We have built well in 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, and 1919; now go to it with the opportunities of 1920 to erect an edifice to the glory of God that shall stand far above any other!" (See the Commissioner's Letter, Page Nine.)

REDEEMING THE TIME

The Wise Use of Odd Moments Tends to Improve the Soul and Make Us More Helpful to Others

OF ALL title sayings, those which refer to the Right of time are perhaps the truest. The proverb of every nation tells us that life is short and death certain—and it is true.

Because the length of our sojourn on earth is short, it is of the utmost importance we should "redeem the time," as Scripture bids us, or, as the marginal note puts it, "buy up the opportunity."

Missed Their Chance

Oceans of pathos are poured in oblivion over the thought of the lack of time and opportunity for doing great and noble things. How often we hear people bemoaning the fact that life with them has offered no chance for self-improvement. They had the sense of the obligation and the desire to do, but, alas! the moment wherein to make a beginning never came.

Yet it is within bounds to say that the vast majority of these mourners had it in their own hands to get this increase of stature—this learning, knowledge, or whatever it was—had they but wisely utilized odd moments.

Take, for instance, the single matter of reading. In these days of cheap editions of good literature practically anybody can, between the hours of waking and sleeping, get a precious impulse from a few minutes' perusal of some worth-while volume.

Interludes of Quiet

There are always spare fractions of an hour, before or after meal-time, in the journey to and from business, or during the brief waiting while of daily existence; and these interludes of quiet, rightly used, can be made to yield a rich harvest of comfort, instruction, and inspiration—the education in the deepest sense. There is a great self-awakening of those who have gained their power and their success in this way.

But there is a higher reason than mere material success for cultivating our odd moments. They tend to use for inspirational reading, for prayer, for anything whatsoever that fosters the growth and vitality of the higher faculties of the soul, will result in putting the person who pursues this course on a far higher plane of life than would be were these precious fragments of time neglected. It is so easy to let them slip, yet two roads sharply diverge, one leading to success, and the other to failure, from this very point.

A single chapter read from the Bible in the morning may furnish the very fillip of influence necessary to at once repel a temptation of the noonday. The memory of the sacred Word may prove just the impulse needed to carry us through a cynical mood, or to tide us over an hour of depression.

Utilize Spare Moments

Everyone has to "choke between a hum-drum, unexciting daily-plodding and a life-splendid day by these interludes of quiet, the light that shines for all men. The way to prove it is to begin today, not to-morrow, in buying up one's opportunities, and utilizing spare moments to the best advantage.

There is also the aspect of "redeeming the time" in work for others. The follower of Christ buys up his opportunity, when, relying on God's guidance, he seeks to win souls.

Perhaps, in the past, some reader has neglected his or her opportunities for self-improvement and for influencing others. The words which the poet Longfellow discovered on a gravestone are a suitable message for such, and intended for all of us: "Look not mournfully into the Past. It comes not back again. Wisely improve the Present. It is thine. Go forth to meet the shadowy Future with- out fear and with a manly heart."

At the beginning of the New Year resolve that you will redeem the time by making use of odd moments and by seizing every opportunity of extending the Kingdom of God.—S.A.C.

A NEW YEAR LESSON

No lesson may more appropriately be impressed upon the mind at the beginning of the new year than this: that the battle of duty is a life-long struggle, in which new dangers and new demands appear every day and hour, and which cannot be terminated by any good resolution or other act of the will.

God clearly shows us the importance and the utility of times and seasons, but always in such a way as to suggest or warn, and never as to save ordinances. A good resolution is a good thing, but after all, it is nothing but a resolution. It is one thing to determine to be a good soldier; it is quite another thing to fight faithfully in a hundred battles.

Too often a man's righteous purpose indefinitely postpones righteous action and hurls the soul to sleep; or, else, after a fitful effort to win moral triumphs, he is brought to a humiliating end.

The Christian, like every other man, is likely to have many a fall; but let him hope to rise by the aid of Christ's outstretched arm, and not by any careful observation of the precise line of duty or the exact date of his surroundings at the moment.

As he begins to make an effort to do better things, it is even better to let him know that the time is now, and that the voice of God in the heart is urging the abandonment of sin, than to wait until a more significant occasion when the human will shall, by its own efforts, purify itself. A good act in a calm mind is better than a good purpose in a Westerner's Abbey.

Thus the new year, with all its bright hopes and fair possibilities, should not be disappointed to the time when it begins to be a new year, and should rather be fortified with a strong and ever present "I will" to help it through its days and months. So shall it prove the Master's time, not man's new year, and the devil's new year.

THE WAY OF SALVATION

You realize you need Salvation. Thank God for that. If you are willing to repent, and to forsake your sins, and to obey His voice, you can go to Him with the certainty that your confession will meet with His forgiveness; and that through faith in the Atonement of Jesus Christ you will be made conscious of God's pardoning love. And with the new birth will begin a new life.

Life is but an extension of the present; that those who have sown to the flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption.

Some people want the door of Heaven opened to them without any effort on their own part. Yet one of the great words of religion is seek and another is believe. "He that believeth and shall not be baptized into condemnation, but is passed from death unto life."

Then how important it is that we should give all diligence to make our calling and election sure, to lay up treasures that will make us rich in the hereafter. Remember, "Godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is, and of the life that is to come." (1st Timothy iv. 8).

FIVE YEARS IN COMMAND

A Review of the Victories God Has Given the Salvation Army During the Period Commissioner Richards Has Been at the Head of the Forces in the Canada East Territory

INDICATIONS OF ABUNDANT VITALITY AND VIGOROUS GROWTH—WAR-TIME DIFFICULTIES OVERCOME AND LOSSES MORE THAN MADE GOOD

On the 20th of November, 1914, Commissioner Richards assumed the command of the forces of the Salvation Army in Canada, Newfoundland, and Bermuda, landing at Vancouver from New Zealand, with Mrs. Richards. It has been thought, and we are sure our readers will agree, that this would be an appropriate occasion to review the work of the five years which have now elapsed since their arrival in Canada.

Furthermore, the events of this period have been unprecedented, not only in their own stupendous import, but in the effect they have had upon the organized endeavour. The war, thank God, has now been at hand for over a year, and the world, at any rate, that part of it which this continent is particularly in touch, is approaching the conditions which it seems likely will be those which the future will regard more or less as normal. There will, therefore, be a natural curiosity to know how the storm has been weathered.

SOME OUTSTANDING FEATURES

On these grounds, as well as for other good and sufficient reasons that will be obvious, much of our space this week is given to reports from the heads of the Headquarters Departments concerning the various sections of work.

To obtain full knowledge of the position it is necessary these reports should be studied in detail, but there are a few outstanding features which may be taken as indicators of the general progress, and which call for special mention.

For instance, there is the fact that during the five years more than eleven thousand persons are recorded as having sought Salvation at Salvation Army penitential forms.

Notwithstanding the losses due to the war, many comrades having made the supreme sacrifice, and removals from the Territory, which during the earlier part of the period were numerous, there are to-day on our Soldiers' Rolls nearly two thousand more names than in this Territory five years ago.

So vigorous has been the growth that has taken place during these strenuous days, that notwithstanding the separation of Canada West from the Eastern Territory, which took place in July, 1915, there are now in active service in the East only forty-one fewer Officers and employees than were in the combined Territories five years ago. The totals to-day are 1,005 for the East and 420 for the West, making the total 1,425.

BETTER PROVISION FOR OFFICERS

There has been as a result of careful consideration of the position, and the question of wise legislation to meet the needs, a very substantial improvement in the provision made for the support of Officers, and for their means what is taken by illness. Compared with the opportunities for financial advancement that are all around the position of an Officer in the Salvation Army in this respect is one of self-sacrifice. But the progress in the development of the Organization has now been reached when provision does not go beyond this, and the past five years have seen a great advance in this matter. One Field Officer of long experience, in writing to the Commissioner, narrates this period as "the best five years of the Field Officer's life in this country." No one will, we are sure, misunderstand the position—the thankfulness expressed is not for the mere money, but for the greater application to the work in hand which one is capable of when relieved from undue anxiety about financial affairs.

On what is sometimes regarded as the more material side of things in the realm of money and property, there has been progress made that looked at from the standpoint of cause, or of effect, is equally gratifying. Without equipment and the wherewithal to pay one's way, little can be done, at any rate in the way of sustained effort; on the other hand, there is no quicker way to financial prosperity and the fruition of the means necessary for the maintenance and development of the Salvation War than that of spiritual life and progress.

SUBSTANTIAL PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE ON THE FIELD

NOTWITHSTANDING the war and all the accompanying disturbance of life, the records of the Field Department show that substantial progress has been made during the past five years. Under conditions when even to have numbers and the flag has been held high. Many of our Soldiers and adherents make the supreme sacrifice during the war. Notwithstanding these grave losses, and others incurred through removals from the country, we have actually 1,838 more Soldiers on our Rolls to-day in Canada East than we had five years ago. To the Adherents' Rolls we have added a total of over 12,000.

The work of the Financial Department at Headquarters has to do in so large a measure with that of other branches, and shows in their records, that a separate report from the Financial Secretary would be so sound and satisfactory a position. This does not imply that money is a superfluity; there is, and will be as long as the Army is the live concern it is, a continual race between opportunities for usefulness and the means to meet them—with the former always in the lead.

That the Property Department has an excellent showing will be gathered from the statement that the cost of the erections, purchases, and alterations and repairs carried out during the five years, and of the buildings now under construction, will be over three-quarters of a million dollars.

EVIDENCE OF PUBLIC CONFIDENCE

The success of the Red Shield Drive last year, when $1,500,000 was raised for the Army's Military and Repatriation Work, was another significant indication of the standing of the Organization in public confidence, and a determination that it should be enabled, so far as financial support is concerned, to cope with the needs and opportunities of the hour.

Altogether there is very good ground for the statement made by Lieut. Colonel Smeaton, the Financial Secretary, that the financial position of the Salvation Army in Canada East was never before in so sound and satisfactory a position. This does not imply that money is a superfluity; there is, and will be as long as the Army is the live concern it is, a continual race between opportunities for usefulness and the means to meet them—with the former always in the lead.

That the Property Department has an excellent showing will be gathered from the statement that the cost of the erections, purchases, and alterations and repairs carried out during the five years, and of the buildings now under construction, will be over three-quarters of a million dollars.

APPRECIATION OF CO-OPERATION

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a letter addressed by the Commissioner to our readers, in which he expresses his appreciation of the unstinted support and hearty co-operation he has received from all ranks, and from the friends of the Salvation Army. Specially associated with him in the responsibilities of the leadership of the Territory during the past five years have been those Officers who have held the position of Chief Secretary, in the first place Colonel Gaskin, and during the past three and a half years, Colonel McMillan.

Some idea of the Commissioner's personal effort during the five years may be gathered from the following particulars, gleaned from his diaries, which he was good enough to place at our disposal. In this time he has travelled, from place to place, nearly 115,000 miles, has conducted over 1,200 meetings, attended by audiences aggregating within a very few of half a million persons. At these there have been 8,484 seekers, 3,422 of whom were for Salvation. Of the 193 Corps in Eastern Canada he has visited no fewer than 133, while a number of Corps in Newfoundland and Bermuda have also seen their Territorial Leader in person. Councils held with Officers number 114, ranging in attendance from eleven at Cobalt and twelve in the Island of Bermuda, to the five hundred of a Toronto Congress. Lectures and addresses to Cadets number 86; 51 Young People's Days have been held, and over sixty addresses have been given to Juniors.

GOD HAS BEEN VERY GOOD

As a final word in this introduction to the gratifying record which, to the glory of God, it is our pleasing duty to present, we would quote from the Commissioner's letter:

"God has been very good to us, and under His gracious hand we have accomplished much, but it is very, very little compared with the needs and opportunities that are before us. Let us all unite in seeking from Him enlargement of vision, extension of capacity, and continuance of grace, so that we may see and be equal to the demands that the world makes upon us as followers of the Saviour who died for all!"

HOPES FOR NEW YEAR

Have you really tramped the upward, shining track? Have you ever vowed that you would not turn back? Have you ever sought for good (As your Master said you should)?

If you haven't, well, we hope you'll start to-day. Have you ever met reverses to good part, though they've hurt and stung you deeply to the heart? Have you ever looked for bliss? 'Neath the clouds of darkest hue?

If you haven't, well, we hope you'll sometimes say.

Have you ever in the Army open-ly—aloud—said "God is Love," to show every one?

Have you boldly taken stand, Lord to winner by the hand? If you haven't, well, we hope you will to-day.

Have you ever felt that God is calling you?

Have you ever heard the Master's "Son, be true?"

Have you heard the call to war? At brave hearts have done before?

If you haven't, well, we hope you will to-day.

Have you ever felt that faith was giving out?

Have you ever felt that you must yield to doubt?

Were you ever made to doubt?

Have you ever felt fearful? If you haven't, well, we hope you never may.

THE SEARCHLIGHT

In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths. I will bring the blind by a way that they knew not; I will lead them in paths that they have not known; I will make darkness light before them, and crooked things straight.

Commit thy way unto the Lord; trust also in Him; and He shall bring it to pass. I will instruct thee and teach thee in the way which thou shalt go; I will guide thee with mine eye.

IN the parable of Dives and Lazarus our Lord gives us a picture of what it means to be saved and what it means to be lost.

Here was a rich man who had been so busy enjoying life that he had forgotten, or never thought about, the time when he must remove to the other side of the river. He had made no preparation. He had just neglected Salvation.

Now, when he crosses the river he leaves all his wealth behind but takes his memory. It is well to fix on the mind that we take our memories with us into the Great Beyond. Memory has been known to make a hell on earth for some.

Strange! He can see Heaven. He can see Lazarus, the beggar,

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE SAVED OR LOST!

"Neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead."—Luke xvi. 31.

who used to be thankful for a few crumbs from his table. Although about the time when he must remove to the other side of the river, he can speak with Lazarus. He asks for just a drop of oil to cool his parched tongue, and pleads that Father Abraham will send Lazarus to him. Then he says, "I pray thee, Father Abraham, that you send him to my father's house. I have five brothers; let him testify unto them, lest they come to this place of torment."

Abraham replies, "They have Moses and the prophets; let them listen to them. If they will not hear Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded though one rose from the dead."

For your benefit and mine Jesus has drawn this picture. Learned people, who do not profess to be Christians, tell us that the future has given this Branch a great deal of her time. The services of the Home League during the war, and since, are too well known to need any further explanation.

What Are You Doing in the Campaign?

Twenty-three new Corps have been opened during the five years, as follows:—

Mimico, Brock Avenue (Toronto), Fairbank

The Paris Citadel

One of many Corps Halls erected during the five years

(Toronto), London 111, Sevier's Island, Nfld., Chances Island, Nfld., St. Anthony's, Nfld., Griener, Nfld., Lady's Right, Nfld., Springle, Nfld., Meckin, Nfld., S. W. Arm, Nfld., Lewisporte, Nfld., Timmins, Peterboro 11, Windsor 11, Trenton, N.S., Birely Bay, Nfld.,

Bishop's Falls, Nfld., Preston, Nfld., Nfld., Ottawa 111, Hamilton 111.

In addition to these nine Corps have been re-opened. If we add to these the nine Corps in Canada West, which were opened 11 first year the Commissioner was here, when he had charge of the whole of Canada, the total would be forty. Then many Corps, by the good blessing of God and to the credit of enterprising Officers and Soldiers, have made excellent progress. Look for example at West Toronto, which put on sixty-nine new Soldiers during one Officer's term. Kingston is another that has done splendidly. Did space permit, we could mention Corps after Corps.

It is, of course, well known that during the five years there was a separation of Canada West Territory from the East. This, at the time, to some appeared a serious matter, but to be quite frank, from the Field side of affairs, we have scarcely noticed the fact that we have lost all the Territories West of Port Arthur, for the very good reason that such excellent advances have been made in Canada East. There were in the combined Territories five years ago 1,046 Officers and employees. To-day we have 1,005, or only forty-one less in the Eastern Territory alone.

Changes in Administration

Among the provisions made for the better administration of affairs has been the raising of Newfoundland to the status of a Provincial Command, and now, as announced last week, to that of a Sub-Territory. In the Eastern Provinces there has been a re-arrangement of the Divisional Commands and the constitution of a new Division embracing the Eastern and Central Canada.

To-day we have 222 Corps in the Eastern Territory, or only forty-three Corps fewer in the combined Territories five years ago. The internal conditions have improved, and a result of Officers are much better paid. Fifty per cent. of the Harvest Festival is now being retained by the Corps and the other half allowed by Territorial Headquarters for the assistance of needy Corps. This has been made possible by the doubling of the Harvest Festival returns within the five years.

Greatest Self-Denial Increase

Then the Soldiers' and Sailors' Fund has increased $43,265.80 in the combined Territories to $91.20 raised in Canada East Territory, which all goes to show the Field side of the spirit of revival is also with us. Re- of "The War Cry" will know that the reports constantly telling us that the Spirit of God being made manifest in the Salvation of all over this Territory. The Winter Soldier Campaign is going well.

A very pleasing feature is that thirty-six Officers have applied for re-employment during this period, whom we have been delighted to have with us again. Never was the hour of opportunity so wide open or public opinion so sympathetic with us. There is undoubtedly a glorious future ahead of the Salvation Army in Canada, Newfoundland, and the Islands. — FRANK MORRIS, Field Secretary.

Excellent Recruitment of Our Coming Army

IN reviewing the work accomplished during the past five years in connection with the Young People, it is gratifying to note that despite the many difficulties the advances made have been substantial and encouraging.

In every branch, from the Cradle Roll to the Corps Cadet Brigade, marked increases have been made, reflecting the deep and practical interest of Commissioner Richards in this important phase of Army activity.

Pronounced Advances

A few of the outstanding features are certainly worthy of special mention, although, did space permit, one might take each branch in detail and show just how uniform and unbounded are the advances on every hand. However, a fair idea of the whole may be gathered from the following:—

The Life-Saving Scout and Guard Organizations were inaugurated.

The Junior Company Registers show an increase of 4,000 names.

The Cradle Roll an increase of nearly 5,000 names.

These two items may be said to represent an increase in Junior Corps Membership of 3,000 for the five years.

In comparing the attendance at the Company meetings for the year 1914 with the year 1919, we find that the latter shows an aggregate attendance of 32,388 over 1914.

The week-night attendance, which includes Young People's week-night Salvation meetings, Band of Love, Life-Saving Scouts and Guards and Corps Cadet Classes, shows an increase of nearly 24,000, comparing the total attendance of 1914 with 1919.

The number of Corps Cadets has more than doubled.

Naturally, the finances have correspondingly increased, the income of the Junior Corps being nearly three times what it was in 1914.

Days of Great Importance

The Young People's Days, which have been a feature of great importance during the past five years, have been productive of splendid results. Altogether there have been 24,000 attendances at these, and 2,615 seekers have knelt at the Cross, of whom 1,347 sought Salvation the remaining 1,268.

The Commissioner has been very practical his method of assisting with the improvement of the Young People's Halls, and has made substantial grants for that purpose, so that the is an all-round betterment in this direction. The equipment of the Junior Corps, such as Sand Tray, Screen, Small Chairs for the many Classes, etc., has been very greatly improved, and further developments along this line are in hand.

Increased Facilities

The Organization of the Young People has been greatly advanced, the increase of the People's Local Officers being nearly one hundred and fifty. The prospect for the future is bright and encouraging, and the outlook is most encouraging.

The Corps Buildings at Jackson's Point Fresh-Air Camp

Here every year hundreds of poor children, and Life-Saving Guards and Scouts, spend a happy and health-giving holiday. Provision is also made for touring Officers, at this beautiful spot on the shores of Lake Simcoe, a short distance north of Toronto.

Thousands of Needy and Unfortunate Succoured

THE WOMEN'S SOCIAL

THAT during the past five years over five thousand women and children have been succoured and provided for in the Homes of the Women's Social-Work is the opinion of that branch. What rivers of tears have dried up! What stress of mind relieved! What regions of broken hearts healed, and broken lives mended! What a blessing to the com-

Cosy Corner of Sun-room at London (O.N.L.) Women's Hospital

The Women's Metropole at Montreal is a most useful Institution. During the five years no fewer than 48,417 night's lodgings have been provided, and over 100,000 meals. Two meetings a week are held here and at these 171 women have sought Salvation.

Of all the objects of pity, a friendless woman in a police court is perhaps one of the most appalling. In Toronto, during the five years the Women's Police Court and Prison Visitor, Commandant Young, has a magnificent record to give. It is summed up in the following figures:—

Toronto Women's Prisons.—Meetings conducted with prisoners, 414; Attendances, 11,310; Personal interviews, 843; Pledges of conversion, 52; Pledges with individually, 2,603; Letters written for prisoners, 189; "War Cry" distributed, 15,314.

Toronto Police Court.—Women prisoners interviewed, 1,982; Spoken for in Court, 583; Sent by Court to Salvation Army, 401; Restored to friends, 201; Found situations, 78; Beds provided for homeless, 6,866; Meals given, 18,355; Articles of clothing given, 831; Letters written for prisoners, 269.

Development at Montreal

One of the developments of the past year has been the appointment of an Officer to attend the Montreal Women's Police Court daily. The officials have granted her access to the cells, where each offender is interviewed before the Court opens. Many young women have already been handed over to the care of the Salvation Army by the Magistrate, and have thus been saved from further wrong-doing.

In addition to the work done by specially-appointed Officers, as above, much in this way is done by women Officers, and particularly the wives of Officers stationed at various Corps, and by the sisters who belong to the League of Mercy.

THE MEN'S SOCIAL

THE Men's Social Department there has also been much activity during the past five years. In some directions, owing to the special conditions that have prevailed, there has been less need, there having been, for instance, practically no unemployment for a long time, but in other directions there have been notable developments.

Before the establishment of the special Hostels for military men, the Institutions in the cities did a great work in providing for soldiers who needed places at which to stay when passing through. Precursors have been taken to maintain the Institutions and organization in working order ready for any emergency that may arise, as well as to deal with the needs of the situation from day to day, which though, as already intimated, have diminished, but are still very real in character.

Among the advances made has been the removal of the St. John (N.B.) Metropole to more suitable premises, and the renovation of the Chatham Street property in Montreal as an Industrial Home for men who are handed over to the Army from the Police Court.

The Prison Work (reports Lieut.-Colonel Chandler, the Territorial Secretary) has made great strides, and has kept Officers busy and Institutions occupied.

Parole System Working Well

In Ontario the Parole System has seen a most remarkable development. The Provincial Government seeking the advice and assistance of the Salvation Army, and granting an exceptional privilege, through Orders-in-Council, for receiving men on parole, and placing them in positions. Only a small proportion of the men have failed to respond to the trust reposed in them in connection with this system, and this has caused the authorities to warmly commend the Salvation Army for its share in its application.

The work caring for the wives and children of those incarcerated has been committed to us and has also been done efficiently and successfully. To Brigadier William Frazer, the Assistant Prison Secretary, praise is certainly due for the continued development of this branch.

The extent of the work that is being done by the Officers of the Department who do work in connection with this branch is indicated by the following statistics:—

Interviews with prisoners, 42,725; ex-prisoners for whom employment found with or by the Salvation Army, 2,627; prisoners met on discharge, 3,747; meetings held in prisons, 5,252; prisoners' petitions answered, 1,319; publications given away to prisoners, 7,618; meals supplied to prisoners, after discharge, 18,755; hours spent in prison work, 49,784; clothing given to prisoners, 2,192; fares paid for prisoners, 3,053; night's lodgings provided, 6,743.

Police Courts visited, 234; persons visited, 974; hours spent in Police Court work, 5,194; Police Court cases turned over to the Salvation Army, 973; prisoners supplied with clothing, 322; prisoners' families supplied with food, 300; letters written for prisoners, 6,258.

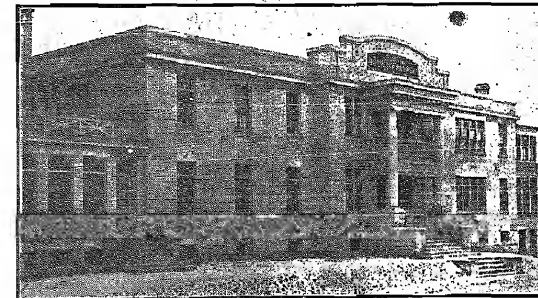

The following totals are for nine months only, this being the period the special work has been placed in our hands by the Government of Ontario: Prisoners' families visited, 1,851; families visited in the interest of prisoners, 5,892; prisoners paroled and found employment, 316.

While Ontario shows up so well, Montreal has also great things to report. The Police Court officials have extended larger facilities for our getting in touch with prisoners.

Co-Workers with Authorities

The Parole System has also taken in the Salvation Army Officers there as co-workers in seeking to help and assist those who are being given another chance. The jails at Bordeaux and Vincent de Paul are visited regularly, and meetings conducted there.

In the Missing Friends Department, work has been maintained with gratifying success, hundreds of lost friends and relatives of inquirers having been traced.

The Fine and Commodious New Wing of the Bethel Hospital

Notable Additions to Equipment

There have been some notable additions to the equipment of this branch, others are in hand, and still others are listed for attention at the earliest possible moment.

The so-called new wing, but which is really large than the original Institution, to the Bethesda Hospital at London, Ont., is the largest of the schemes that have been completed.

In connection with this there was opened the Royal Gray Memorial Children's Home.

A Hospital and Nurses Home at Windsor, which is a large proposition to begin with, but which promises to develop into larger still is due for opening before this issue of the "Cry" is in circulation.

At St. John's, Newfoundland, the new wing is now being added.

A large house was secured for the Toronto Reformatory Home, and the accommodation of the Children's Home increased.

A Reformatory Home has been opened in Mourmou.

A Maternity Hospital and Nurses' Home at Sydney, C.B., is to be opened within the next few weeks.

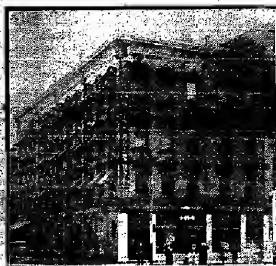

The very large Maternity Hospital which is situated at Halifax is well under way and expected during the year.

Home Receiving Attention

The schemes which have already received attention, and which are in their preliminary stages, are new Maternity Hospitals at Montreal and St. John's, Nfld., and a new Reformatory Home at Toronto.

Marked by "Promptness, Efficiency and Humanity"

THE appointment of Commissioner Richards to Canada occurred within a very few months after the outbreak of the Great War. One of his earliest acts (writes Lieut. Colonel Chandler, the Territorial Military Secretary) was to set about the obtaining of motor ambulances for dispatch overseas, the dedication of same taking place in the Massey Hall. Several Canadian Officers were placed at the disposal of the military authorities and appointed Chaplains for home service, two of whom, Captains Robinson and Mifflin, later went with the men overseas and under the supreme sacrifice. Others were eventually appointed overseas, giving splendid service at the camps in England, the base in France, and in the front-line trenches.

Great Drive for Funds

From time to time Tag Days were held to raise funds for the overseas work, but in the Fall of 1918, when no one could foresee the end of the struggle, a Great Drive for funds was arranged. Over a million and a half dollars for past, present, and future work was the outcome.

Then followed the securing and opening of a Chain of Hostels from coast to coast, including Halifax, St. John (N.B.), Quebec, Montreal, Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, Chatham, and London, so far as Canada East was concerned.

An interesting circumstance was the means of bringing into operation the Dependents' Hostel at Toronto. One Sunday afternoon a military official of high rank rushed into the Soldiers' Hostel there, and asked if there was any means by which the Salvation Army could get some workers down to the station within fifteen minutes as a despatch train by the way, the first of these—from New York had just arrived, with five hundred women and children, and there was no one to meet them, and a large number would not have any place to go to. Major Southall happened to be there at the time and telephoned the Chief Secretary, and within the fifteen minutes numbers of the "Home Brigade" were on their way from various institutions, and the crowd of people duly fixed up.

Meeting Called by Mayor

This experience caused the Mayor to call a meeting at the City Hall for the purpose of organizing means for dealing with this situation, and different societies were assigned duties accordingly. By no means the least of this responsibility fell to the lot of the Salvation Army. Mrs. Colonel McMillan organizing a band of women workers who met all trains. The Commissioner promptly decided to transform the Mc-Saving-Song Lodge into a hostel for Soldiers' Dependents. This was quickly taxed to its capacity, and during nine months 10,219 free meals and 3,064 free beds were given. At the Toronto Soldiers' Hostel over 40,000 beds have been supplied, 4,008 being free of charge. No fewer than 16,232 meals were also given to returned men. Employment was found for 148. These figures are typical of the work done all around.

When men arrived at the home ports, there have been representatives of the Salvation Army at the gangways to extend warm greetings, and distribute lunch boxes for the train journey, containing fruit, chocolate, and other "treats," and a copy of "The War Cry." In the sheds on the wharf were canteens where the Salvation Army supplied coffee and oatmeal free of charge.

Thousands of Welcome Boxes

Some idea of what has been done will be gathered from the statement that during seven months (February to September) at Halifax alone, the following supplies were used in making about 150,000 Welcome Boxes: Oranges, 139,464; chocolate bars, 140,188; gums, 415,132; biscuits, 283,922; peanuts, 30,237 lbs.; apples, 25,538; maple sugar, 100 lbs.

During the same period 442 telegrams were sent, and 15,721 letters and postcards distributed, collected, and mailed; 138,704 copies of "The War Cry," 3,600 newspapers, and 271 pairs of sacks were also given away, all being free of charge to the men or their dependents. In four months at Quebec 11,426 Welcome Boxes and 709 Children's Boxes were provided. Of tea and coffee, 1,223 caddies were made and given away in the canteen. The telegrams sent were 83, and the letters and postcards mailed amounted to 9,904.

Another important feature in connection with the Commissioner's administration in this branch was the establishment of the Military Visitation plan. Its judgment on this matter has been more than justified by the splendid results achieved. Immediately our Visitors started to visit homes, demands came in thick and fast upon us to deal with matters of various kinds—financial, domestic, and otherwise. Many difficulties were straightened out and family troubles adjusted, with the result that many homes to-day are complete and happy that otherwise would have been broken up.

During nine months 2,967 families were visited, and of these it was found, nearly five hundred families needed special counsel or the material comforts, groceries, clothing, etc., etc. As in the former particulars, these figures refer to Toronto alone. Similar work has been carried on throughout the Territory.

For Wives and Dependents

Hospital accommodation for soldiers' wives and dependents has also been provided at London, St. John, Windsor (Ont.), and Halifax, where extensions or new buildings have been put in hand, and at all other centres where hospitals already exist.

Another phase of after-war work undertaken was the meeting of the hundreds of thousands of returning troops, at Halifax, St. John (N.B.), and Quebec by our faithful Officers and Soldiers. This was followed up by their dependents—wives and children, and many of them cared for by the tens of thousands. Troop and dependents' trains were also systematically met in the large cities like Toronto and Montreal, and many were the recipients of the Army's hospitality in our Hostels.

Hands of qualified visitors have worked incessantly, visiting the wives and dependents of our brave boys, giving practical assistance and advice.

Earned Grateful Acknowledgements

The programme has been, and will remain, a big one, but the manner in which, under the wise and thoughtful direction of the Commissioner, it has been put into effect has earned grateful acknowledgements not only from the men and their folk, but from the government bodies and societies in co-operation with whom so much work has been done. For instance, in a letter to the Commissioner, signed by the Chairman (General J. A. Gurney), Chairman of the Welfare Council (John M. Godfrey), and Secretary (Dr. A. H. Abbott) the Citizens' Repatriation League of Toronto, we take the following passages:—

"The services which your Officers have given us have been marked by three outstanding characteristics, namely, Promptness, Efficiency, and Humanity."

"We desire to bear testimony to the wisdom you have shown in dealing with soldiers' wives, and soldiers' children in trouble. We cannot find words to express our appreciation of your work which will, at the same time, let people realize the thought that you put on each case and the care that you exercise in handling the people that come under your notice."

"We imagine that no one will ever realize how much the Salvation Army has done in this disturbing period through which we are still passing, but we do know that the way in which you have spent the money which was entrusted to you, is ample warrant for the people giving you what you need to carry on your benevolent work for the upbuilding of a better citizenship. These are the men, women, and children who you feel will you have done, and the City of Toronto, and Canada as a whole, owe the Salvation Army such tribute as can be given to an organization of men and women who will do it all the time that they ask only to be given an opportunity to serve."

Salvation Army Canteen in the Shopping Street

The Property and Architect's Department Serves A

CONCERNED in the progress of every section of the Army's work, as the provider of equipment without which neither Field, Social nor any other branch could carry on, the Property and Architect's Department, on the two-fold significance, for the really outstanding report that Lieut. Colonel Gideon Miller has to present, speaks not only of hard work on the part of him and his assistants, but holds a mirror, so to speak, to the Departments to whom such excellent service has been rendered, in which may be seen reflected the abundant vitality which has made the equipment both necessary and possible.

A Going Concern Behind

It should be understood that while the Property Department, in the case, for instance, of a Corps Citadel, sees to the erection of the building and superintends the financing of the scheme, that upon those who have the responsibility of the Corps upon their shoulders—Divisional Commander, Corps Officer and Locals—is the burden of finding the necessary money to pay down the cash necessary to float the scheme, and for the subsequent clearing off of mortgages, etc. The payment of rent by Corps is adjusted on an equitable basis, dependent upon the amount outstanding and other circumstances. It will therefore be seen that while the Property Department gives help that is available, it can do nothing unless behind it is a live, going concern that both has the confidence of the public, and in it the men and women who are wide awake to the opportunities for the extension of the work committed to their charge.

In the reports from the Men's and Women's Social Departments, and on the Military Repatriation work, mention is made of the erection of a wide range of new Hospitals and other Institutions, as well as the acquisition and alteration of other buildings for such uses. They include, what will have been noted, some of the biggest projects the Department has yet taken in hand. It is not necessary again to make particular mention of them.

On the field side of things, the Department has a really wonderful record, which will be seen to be the more so when it is remembered that the five-year period covered has been one of great

Young People's Halls—North Toronto, Chester (both these at present used also by Seniors, pending procedure with full scheme when finances permit), Kingston, Brantford, Rhodes Avenue, West Toronto, Peterboro I, Outpost.

Properties Remodelled

The following have been altered or enlarged in a manner which to all intents and purposes makes the buildings new.

Senior and Young People's Halls—London I. (including Divisional Headquarters), Brampton (including Officers' Quarters), Lippinstown, Aurora, Wynewood, Windsor I., Peterboro I., Springfield.

Senior Halls—Napanee, St. John III., Kingston (teakly added).

Young People's Hall—Manitou.

Properties Purchased

These have in many cases been extensively altered to make them suitable for the purposes for which they were acquired.

Halls—Niagara Falls, Hamilton II, destroyed in 1917 disaster, but rebuilt, Belleville (Young People's Outpost), Lansdowne, Hamilton IV, Clark's Harbour, Ganarone (Hall and Quarters taken on long lease).

Officers' Quarters—Gravelly, Toronto Temple, Windsor I., London I., Niagara Falls, Hamilton III, Lige Street, Hamilton I.

Work Now in Progress

Hall and Quarters—Warkworth, Darmouth its replacement building recently destroyed by fire, Smith's Falls (Hall and Infants' Company Room).

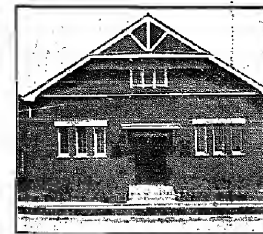

Schemes Contemplated

That the vitality displayed is very much a thing of the present is clear from the following list of schemes that are under contemplation, the majority of which are live issues, among them are a number of proposed new openings.

Halls—Yorkville, Eastcourt, Tomcoron, Scarborough, Hamilton I. (including Divisional Headquarters) and Young People's Hall, London III., East Toronto, Redwood Hall—Belleville for senior men, site and build, West Toronto, Riverdale, Parliament Street, Peterboro (remodel and extend houses for Young public, as a tribute to the memory of the Army Founder, fell within the five years. The foundation stone was laid by the Commissioner on April 1st, 1916 and it was opened in March of the following year, but at the request of the military authorities was immediately leased to them to use as the Dominion Ordnance Hospital.

Notwithstanding the necessity of a policy of retrenchment so far as minor repairs and renovations were concerned, during the war period considerable work of this kind was done, opportunity and necessity arose, keeping pace with deteriorating, and adding to the value and making them a credit to the organization.

AN EFFECTIVE AUXILIARY

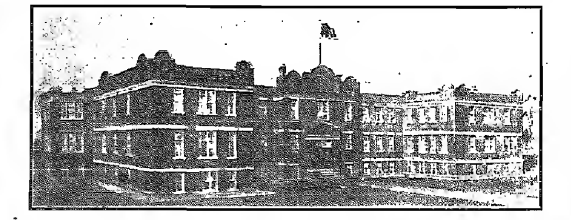

THE Tailoring Trade Department is an auxiliary that does good service to practically all branches. During the war conditions, scarcity and high prices of materials, it has been operated under great difficulties. The Tailoring and Dress-making Sections have had a good deal of special attention from the Commissioner, with a view to making them effective in the supply of uniforms, and during the term of the present Manager, Dr. J. J. Jennings, a quantity of machinery has been installed that facilitates the maintenance of a output.

There has also been much development on the line of providing equipment and books for the Young People's Corps. A considerable Mail Order business is already in existence, and is being developed systematically.

St. Catharines Citadel

This is an excellent specimen of the large scale of work done by the Property and Architect's Department under the supervision of the Commissioner. It includes special accounts.

An Architect's Vision of the Hospital Now Being Erected at Halifax

Since this drawing was made certain modifications have been found necessary. For instance, trouble was experienced at the basement, and a portion of the main building will be three stories above ground. difficultly so far as building conditions are concerned. It has been felt that the proceeding with schemes was only justifiable when they were made absolutely essential by the immediate needs of the case, or there was such progress being made that additional or better accommodation could not be denied—and always, of course, providing that the conditions governing the financial side could be complied with. The work done is, therefore, even more than in ordinary times, an indication of all-round progress.

EDITORIAL NOTES

East and West Alike.

IT IS NOT so very long ago that special prominence was given in our pages to reports upon the position of affairs in the Territory of Canada West which showed that at the conclusion of three years of separation from Canada East the work had been most gratifying progress made in every department of the Salvation War.

Now the completion of five years in command of, first, the combined Territories, and subsequently the Eastern by Commissioner Richards, gives occasion for a review of the situation in the latter. As all in the East read with praise to God of the victories which He had given in the West, so now, we are confident, the Officers and comrades of the Sunset Provinces will join in a big Hallelujah over the record contained in our issue of this week.

Evidence of Life

AS ONE after another of the Departmental reports passed through our hands in preparation for the press, the impression was created, and the further we went the more it grew, that we were dealing with indications that behind the figures and facts recorded in a great living organization, with beating heart, strong mind, and vigorous powers for aggression. We think all who will take the trouble to examine these reports will leave the same feeling and will join in giving glory to God that, from a period of so much stress and strain, the Salvation Army emerges not only intact and ready for action, but with a record of work done and progress made during that time which would be creditable if achieved under the most favourable circumstances.

Particularly encouraging will be found the statement supplied by the Field Secretary showing that the position of Canada East alone now approximates closely in some vital particulars to that of the combined Territories five years ago.

Reviews Are Desirable

SUCH REVIEWS as that now being made are, it seems to us, desirable for several very important reasons. And this is so whether they pertain to a Corps, an Institution, a Department, a Division, or a Territory.

In the first place, made and taken as they ought to be, they are occasions for giving glory to God, and for devout and formal public recognition of His goodness in bestowing strength, grace, and guidance upon our which nothing is with while can for stock-taking, that operation in business which sometimes seems to take up a lot of time without profit, but which in reality is so necessary to the finding out of one's position that it cannot be dispensed with without incurring very great danger of failure and bankruptcy, or, at the least, of missing the best opportunities for making progress.

They are also useful by way of interchange of information, and provision of one another to love and good works. There is a world of encouragement and stimulus in knowledge that whatever difficulties one may have to face in one's own sphere, that comrades are overcoming and marching on to victory elsewhere, and especially when they are doing so on so large a scale, and in so many directions, that there is scarcely a set of circumstances imaginable that are not amongst those over which triumph is being achieved.

The Personal Element

SCOUT REVIEWS have also very important uses on the personal side. Organization, rule and regulation, of course, using the word in its best sense, are all necessary to the formation of the "body" of the Salvation Army. But the "soul" lies in personality. Over and over again it has been demonstrated that it is personality that tells. We are not referring to the mere show of the intellectual kind of work that is sometimes done—that points to undesirable characteristics in the worker as much as does the doing of little or nothing at all. Where there is wise, solid, and capable leadership there will be good and lasting work done.

It is good, therefore, that there should be periodical reviews of work done in order that two ends, both of great importance to the Salvation Army, should be served. One is that those who have, under the hand of God, the rule over the Organization may have brought to their notice those whose personality is of the order which secures good results, and the other that those who, by the grace of God, are gifted in this way may be honoured as they should be, to their own encouragement, and the strengthening of the confidence in them of those who serve under them.

It would be altogether too much to ourselves to do more, in presenting to our readers these reports, than to say we believe one and all will wish us to assure Commissioner and Mrs. Richards on this occasion of deep affection and loyal esteem, and to promise for the future, on behalf of Officers and Soldiers, even more hearty and whole-souled co-operation in every branch of the Salvation War, but this we do with all our hearts.

Fruits of the Soul

THOSE who desire to make progress in spiritual life should bear in mind that the principles which have to be acted upon by the successful gardener also apply to the cultivation of the tree which bears the fruits of righteousness. They should set to work upon the garden of their hearts with like diligence, remembering that we can reap no other kind of crop than we sow, and in no greater or less measure, but in accordance with the amount of rightly directed labour we bestow upon it.

By the grace of God, seeing there are no spiritual droughts that will not be broken when the heart is truly open to receive Divine refreshment, and no plagues from which deliverance cannot be obtained by Divine aid, the return from this garden may be confidently expected to be a good one under all circumstances. "Whoever a man is, that shall he also reap."

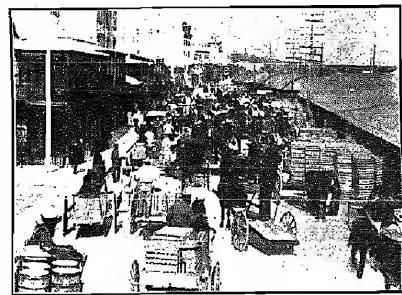

IN THE BERMUDAS

Colonel and Mrs. McMillan Conduct a Campaign in These Beautiful Islands—Crowded Meetings at Each Corps and Many Seekers—Jubilee Celebration Held

POSTMASTER-GENERAL PRESIDES AT LECTURE

ON account of steamship communication with the Bermudas being much disorganized during the latter half of the war period, it has been impossible for either the Commissioner or the Chief Secretary to visit the Islands for the last two years. The visit of the Chief Secretary of heart, and the meeting closed about 11:30 p. m.

The Saturday night open-air meetings on the wharf at Hamilton are an important feature of the Corps work, large crowds standing around and listening to the Salvation message in song and testimony. The tary and Mrs. McMillan in November therefore, was hailed with delight by the Officers and Soldiers on the Islands and keen expectations were aroused for seasons of blessings and inspiration.

Glad to Sight Land

The boat by which they left Halifax was delayed two days by violent storms and the Colonel and his wife were very glad when at length the shores of the gorgeous Isles were sighted.

A hearty welcome was accorded them by the Officers stationed on the Islands who had all assembled on the wharf. To see them dressed in white suits and sun helmets seemed quite strange after coming from Canada where winter was just setting in and people were getting out their furs. The first meeting was held at Southampton, which is an Outpost of Somerset Corps and was in the nature of a Jubilee Celebration. Adjutant Galt, welcomed the Colonel and his wife to Bermuda and expressed sentiments of loyalty to the General and the Commissioner in no uncertain manner.

Colonel and Mrs. McMillan responded and then the Colonel gave an interesting account of the Army's operations in many lands. The Hall was filled and the people greatly enjoyed learning some new choruses taught them by the Colonel.

Good Congregational Singing

"The Bermudians are splendid singers," says the Colonel, "and one of the most pleasing features of the whole campaign was the way in which they sang the congregational songs and the choruses I introduced."

A half night of prayer was held at Hamilton on the following night, being a good number of Soldiers and friends were present. Sergeant Major Greener, representing the comrades of the Corps, expressed their sentiments in a very fine address. The Colonel then held a searching talk on Hol-

PERSONAL AND NEWSY

CANADA EAST

Major Walton (Commander of the Halifax Division) has been ill and unable to leave his room for some time, but is now improving.

The following changes have taken place in the Men's Social Department: Major Burrows is appointed to the Toronto Industrial Department; Commandant Watson to Halifax; Adjutant John Ritchie to Hamilton; Adjutant Osborn to assist at Montreal.

Major Lavina Sax and Captain Ole Johnson (Hospital, Worcester, Mass.) have both been ill, but are now improving. Captain Lily Knight (London Children's Home) is also very ill. Remember our sick comrades in prayer.

Heartiest congratulations to the three new Staff-Captains granted this week. Commandant Watson (Halifax Men's Social) has received news that his mother and two of his brothers recently passed away in England, while another brother is seriously ill. We extend our deepest sympathy to the Commandant.

Adjutant and Mrs. Barry have been appointed to the Toronto Military Hostel. Captain and Mrs. Chapman (Quebec) have suffered bereavement in the loss of their baby. Remember them at the Throne of Grace.

We understand from the Trade Secretary that a re-arranging has taken place in the Tailoring Department. There has also been an increase in the staff which makes it possible to now fill all orders promptly. Officers, Soldiers, and friends requiring uniform or overcoat for the winter must send orders immediately. A supply of tambourines has just arrived.

CANADA WEST

We are anxious to see the Commissioner, Chief Secretary, and Lieut.-Colonel Noble back at headquarters. They were detained some time during the welcome tour of the Commissioner, the accounts of which will be read in other columns. They have just returned and stand the worse for their strenuous trip.

Commissioner and Mrs. Endie, assisted by Lieut.-Colonel Noble, Lieut.-Colonel and Mrs. Noble, and Adjutant and Mrs. Carter, conducted a very interesting and instructive tour of about eighty attentive listeners at the Provincial Detention Home on Sunday night.

With an audience of about eighty attentive listeners at the Provincial Detention Home on Sunday night, we were most gratified to present this Staff Secretary, "The War Cry," to the men.

W. J. RICHARDS,
Commissioner.

"FORGETTING THE THINGS THAT ARE BEHIND!"

A Call to More Ardent Service for God and Souls

Letter from Commissioner Richards

TO THE OFFICERS, SOLDIERS, AND SUPPORTERS OF THE SALVATION ARMY IN CANADA EAST, NEWFOUNDLAND, AND BERMUDA

My Dear Comrades and Friends,—

By the Grace of God, Mrs. Richards and I have just completed five years with you. The reports which have been furnished by the Officers who are at the heads of the various Departments of Work, and which are printed elsewhere in this issue of "The War Cry," will speak for themselves in regard to the progress that we have together been enabled to make in those things which have to do with the furtherance of the Salvation War and the extension of the Kingdom of God upon earth.

GREAT AND UNPRECEDENTED TRIAL

These five years have embraced one of the most troublous periods known to history; it has been a time of great and unprecedented trial of strength of mind and of body, and at times there have been temptations to consider faith foundationless, and works a useless aggravation of a hopeless position, so far as the position and prospects of the world at large were concerned.

We have not only to thank God that these clouds have been rolled away, but that when things were at their darkest, devoted men and women kept at their work with undiminished zeal, with the result that the Salvation Army in Canada East has not only maintained its position, but has made advances that might under the most favourable circumstances be regarded with gratification.

OUR GREATEST REWARD

To all who have worked to achieve these results, and not forgetting the friends who have so generously supported us with their influence and gifts, I say, on behalf of the General, for I am sure he would wish me to do so, as well as myself, a most hearty "Thank you!" But our greatest reward, for in this we stand together as we have laboured together, is present knowledge of duty done, and the certainty of commendation from the Captain of our Salvation when we render to Him an account of our days.

I would now quote to all a paraphrase of one of my favourite texts: "Forgetting those things which are behind, let us press forward!" God has been very good to us, and under His gracious hand we have accomplished much, but it is very, very little compared with the needs and opportunities that are before us. Let us all unite in seeking from Him enlargement of vision, extension of capacity, and continuance of grace, so that we may see and be equal to the demands that the world makes upon us as followers of the Saviour who died for all!

DO NOT FORGET THE CAMPAIGN

We have built well in 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, and 1919; now go to it with the opportunities of 1920, to erect an edifice to the glory of God that shall stand far above any other. Do not forget the "Out of the Rub" Campaign. During the remainder of the winter, and right on, push for souls. Pray that the forthcoming visit of our beloved General may give great impetus to every branch of our work.

Your affectionate brother in Christ,

W. J. RICHARDS,
Commissioner.

THE GENERAL'S VISIT

To Be Tendered a Civic Reception on Arrival in Toronto

REMEMBER THE DATES—
FEBRUARY 6th to 12th

The announcement of the visit of the General to Toronto has aroused great interest, and it is evident our beloved Leader, when he comes, will receive a most hearty welcome. The programme of events is taking definite shape. Among the items of special interest added to it is a civic welcome, which will be tendered to the General in the City Hall on the Saturday afternoon, immediately upon his arrival. If weather conditions permit, there will be a procession, with hands and banners, from the Union Station to the Municipal Headquarters.

On the Friday evening preceding the General's arrival a meeting will be conducted in the Toronto Temple by the Commissioner. This will be in the nature of a welcome to the Officers and Delegates from outside Corps, as well as a preliminary to the main campaign.

We urge all comrades and friends who can to arrange to come to Toronto for the occasion. Book the dates—February 6th-12th—and keep them clear. Pray much that God's blessing and guidance may be upon all affairs connected with the visit.

SELF-DENIAL VICTORY

New Zealand Again Maintains its Magnificent Record—Over Quarters of a Million Dollars Raised

In connection with the Self-Denial Effort just closed (says the British War Cry) Commissioner Hodder cautions the gratifying news that New Zealand has splendidly maintained its fine position, having raised $50,000 ($53,000).

It will be remembered that New Zealand has done remarkably well in former efforts, and this fresh triumph is therefore doubly praiseworthy.

From the New Zealand "War Cry" just to hand, we gather the following additional information showing what some of the Corps have done:

Gisborne, $24,500; Wellington City, $11,500; Christchurch, $6,585; Auckland, $18,400; Dunedin, $10,030; Invercargill, $6,250; Newmarket, $6,205; Hastings, $7,000; Palmer, $6,255; Wanganui, $5,000. Some of the above named places have less than 5,000 inhabitants and the amount raised is therefore all the more gratifying. When we consider that the whole population of New Zealand is only about one and a quarter million the significance of territorial totals will be realized.

In proportion to population the Territory stands highest in the world for Self-Denial contributions.

FAMOUS ADMIRAL

Praises the Work of the Salvation Army Among Service Men

Admiral Lord Jellicoe, who recently visited Canada, is a warm friend of the Salvation Army. Writing to the Editor of "Under the Colours," the Army's magazine for service men, His Lordship says: "The Salvation Army has done a immense amount of good work among the men, and in the world at large. I wish every man could see the work which our own men have done."

Editorial, Printing, and Publishing Departments

THE last five years have seen not merely a development in the Printing Department, but a revolution. When Commissioner Richards took charge of the Canadian Territory, one of his first acts was to inspect the Printing Department, in the basement of the Temple. I remember the occasion very well, for the simple reason that I was compelled to apologize for our exceedingly poor equipment. We were endeavouring to establish a reputation for good printing with only a third-class equipment at our disposal. The Commissioner at once decided that something should be done. The first consideration was a new press for the special Easter and Christmas issues of "The War Cry," which involved an expenditure of nearly $8,000. The next question was the type-setting machine, of venerable age. The Commissioner agreed to the purchase of a new Linotype.

For Christmas Covers

We were in need then of a special Folding Machine for the Christmas covers, and this was installed.

About this time our work began to increase so rapidly that the new Linotype machine was unable to meet our requirements. A request for a second machine was laid before the Commissioner, and agreed to. It was then found that there was an insistent demand for a mechanical folding machine for our booklets, etc., and a Cleveland Folder was purchased. This machine is specially adapted to take care of any demand for folding, and will do exceptionally fine work, making no less than 100 different folds.

We then took up the question of a better state of efficiency in the Composing Room, and it was decided we should make our own type. At a cost of $2,700 a Monotype type-caster was installed by which we make our own equipment. Just about this time we were called upon to exert ourselves to the utmost to produce more printing, and we found our equipment already too small. It was therefore decided to purchase another large press at a cost of nearly $5,000. Both our large presses are up-to-date in every particular, being supplied with automatic feeders and a perfect system of Electric Press Control.

Used for Sixteen Years

Other demands were continually arising. The next to receive attention was the Cutting Machine, which had been in operation for over sixteen years. It broke down entirely and we found ourselves compelled to scrap it and purchase a new one. That meant $2,000 more.

Smaller improvements of various characters were continually being made. An overhead trolley line was installed by means of which the large rolls of newspaper, weighing nearly half a ton, are stocked on our floors, easily and gently, a vast improvement on the old sliding skid system.

New imposing stones were bought for the Composing Room, and our floor space increased. But the end is not yet. All our small work was done on an equipment of three small presses, two of which were purchased over eighteen years ago. A new machine appeared on the market which would enable us to get out the same amount of work from one machine as could originally be done on three. The matter was placed before the Board, and again, on its recommendation, the purchase of this new machine was agreed to by the Commissioner.

A New "War Cry" Machine

We found our greatest difficulty in deciding on a machine that would enable us to print a better "War Cry." The difficulty was that the circulation of "The War Cry" and "Young Soldier" is not sufficient to warrant us spending a large sum of money on a high-speed press. Our readers all know that "The War Cry" carries no advertisements, and our only income therefore is from direct sales. Long and careful enquiries were made, and we have the happy information to pass on, that last week an order was placed for a new "War Cry" press, which will print in two or three colours, and will contain in its construction all the latest improvements in the near future will be priced as well as any other "War Cry" published. Unfortunately, the manufacturers are so exceedingly insistent with orders that we may not have the press in operation for eight or nine months.

Complete Revolution

It will be seen that the last five years have witnessed a complete revolution in the Printing Department. We only have one machine in operation that was on the ground when the Commissioner landed in Canada. The total cost of the renewals and alterations will, in the long run, reach the sum of $60,000, and when it is remembered that all these expenses have been incurred during the war period, it will speak volumes for the vision which has seen that the wise expenditure of money, even during a time of stress, is a good investment.

The history of the Printing Department in the last five years has shown the wisdom of this policy, as the profits earned for the support of the Salvation War each year have been gratifying. As Manager of the Department I feel in duty bound to pay tribute to the Commissioner for his readiness at all times to meet our wishes, and to sanction the purchase of any machinery which will enable us to do quicker and better work—George Attwell, Brigadier.

TORONTO VETERANS

Enjoy Coffee and Doughnuts Supplied by Salvation Army, Whilst Waiting for Christmas Cheques

On the day before Christmas hundreds of veterans were lined up at King Street, Toronto, waiting to receive their unemployment cheques from the Patriotic Fund. It was a cold, stormy, misty morning, and snow was falling—just the time when coffee and doughnuts were all the very best thing in the world.

The Salvation Army thought so, and so did Lieut.-Colonel Chandler, so did the Territorial Military Secretary, assisted by Major Crichton, Staff-Captain Byers, Adjutant Kendall, and Captain Spooner, carried down a large milk can full of steaming coffee and a crate of hot doughnuts. A supply of cups was obtained from the hotel, and the coffee and doughnuts were handed out on the street.

"Good old Army!" exclaimed the veterans as they drank the coffee and munch the doughnuts; "they are on the job again."

Commandant and Mrs. Stickland, Bell Island, are having a special time—fourteen souls last Sunday night—G. P. Thompson, Commandant.

THE record of work done during the period under review would not be complete without reference to the Army's papers, "The War Cry" and "The Young Soldier." There is work connected with the production of these, but we all recognize that while this is so, the labour of putting them into circulation, of making them accomplish the purpose for which they are created rests upon the Officers and comrades who are on the field. The facts given, therefore, while gratifying to the Editor and Printer because they demonstrate that useful and saleable publications are produced, in greater measure still reflect the vigorous vitality of the organization which takes them to the people, which initially we make hold to believe is in turn stimulated by the fact for mind and soul that we endeavour to supply. In this, as in every branch, the true prosperity of one section is the betterment of the whole.

Takes Great Interest

The Commissioner always takes a great interest in our papers, and to this interest their progress owes a great debt. It is demonstrated, for one thing, in the prompt, at great cost, of better machine equipment for their printing. In public and with Officers too, he does not fail to boost the circulation.

In considering the following figures it should be remembered that during the period covered Prohibition was brought into force, and that the bars have been closed. This is a happy circumstance of long years of warfare against the Drink that the Salvation Army would be the very last to make any complaint about, but in the old days very many "Crys" were sold in the Hotels. Then again the increase of cost of paper, labour, etc., compelled the advance in price of the "Cry" to an admittedly awkward three cents, but these caused temporary setbacks, but those have been overcome and the position now shows an advance of 1,176 per cent on the sales in August, 1914, when the war began.

Of Service to Young People

"The Young Soldier," to which has been added many features of special service to the Young People's Corps, shows an advance of 3,758 per cent, and the number now circulated in Canada East is more than that in the combined Territories in 1914. The figures, in regard to the special Easter and Christmas numbers which have made Canada noted throughout the Army world are:—Easter, 1914, 75,545; 1918, 88,888; Christmas, 1914, 91,265; 1919, 126,331. All the figures given above relate to Canada East only. The advance in figures for the combined Territories has been: Easter, 97,719—132,009; Christmas, 117,767—166,385.

It was an act of thoughtfulness that the men evidently appreciated. Many passers-by also have expressed their admiration for the Army.

"This is great!" said one lady. "I am glad some one thought of the men standing here in the cold."

NEWMARKET

Shouts of Victory When Convert Put Tobacco in Store

The campaign conducted by Mayor Osborne from Saturday to Monday, December 20-22, was a roaring one. The marches, open-air and inside meetings, great numbers of soldiers, and the spirit of the Soldiers all went to show that they were "out of the rut." On Sunday night three young men sought Salvation.

One of them pulled out of his pocket a plug of chewing tobacco and the other two took it from him, and then in the store. A shout of victory rang throughout the building. The young man in his testimony that tobacco had been put in the store.

"Good old Army!" exclaimed the veterans as they drank the coffee and munch the doughnuts; "they are on the job again."

NEWFOUNDLAND NOTES

A Great Victory—People Enthusiastically Support Maternity Hospital Scheme—Good News From Outposts

The great drive to get funds for the new Maternity Hospital is over, and as already announced in the "Cry" it has resulted in a great victory.

Never before in Newfoundland have all parties, and all denominations been brought together in this way. It has been a good thing for all concerned, and we trust the result in fostering a more friendly feeling among God's people in the city of St. John's, and also in the outposts, as all parties have had a chance to work, and thereby a community in the whole Dominion but what has split in its mile.

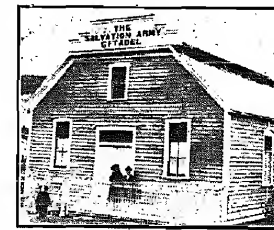

The Salvation Army will forever be proud of the interest taken by the citizens of St. John's in this branch of the work. I am sure that I can speak for all our countrymen when we say that all Salvationists that we will more than ever strive to be examples of faithfulness, and on account of this excellent confidence placed in us will work harder than ever for the Salvation of the sinner, and the uplifting of those who are down.

Here Bay is to have a new Hall. The Provincial Commander is now there making arrangements for it. Adjutant Clifford and comrades at Chatham were a big disappointment to Commandant McIlhenny missing his first Sunday in St. John's for his first Sunday, as announced, but when he did arrive he stirred up the place, and reports twelve souls.

The Commander is having a busy time at Grand Falls. He is assisted by Commandant and Mrs. Hisecock. A full house and thirty-one souls was his last report. Ensign Abbott, Trill, reports the starting of the Home League with seventeen members, and more to follow. Five souls on Wednesday, two on Sunday, and two more on Tuesday night.

Commandant and Mrs. Stickland, Bell Island, are having a special time—fourteen souls last Sunday night—G. P. Thompson, Commandant.

THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK

We should not trouble ourselves to know where we are to be led if we only know that God is leading us. With God over the sea; without Him, not over the threshold. Only in proportion as our shuttles play into God's warp, will our life become a part of the pattern He is weaving.

THE WAR CRY
CAMPAIGN SONGS

COME TO MY HEART

My yearning heart reaches out to Thee,
The source of Grace and strength to
My soul in wondrous ecstasy,
Delighted soon Thy face to see.

Chorus

Come to my heart Lord Jesus,
Enter just now.
Come to my heart Lord Jesus,
Before Time I howl.

Eagerly pleading Thy Spirit,
Boldly my wishes make known.
My earnest desire, purge me with Thou alone!

O make me strong and my love sincere,
My pilgrimage a Heaven here,
The wilderness like Canaan's land,
Redeemed, transformed, by Thine
Own hand.

The crosses here only make me
stronger,
If in Thy strength they've been Thro' dark the night, more bright the dawn.

The clouds dispersed, the victory
Captain Geo. Mundy, Camrose, Alta.

THE WONDROUS CROSS

Large Song Book, 35: "It was on the Cross," 8: "Thy Will be Done," 18.

When I survey the wondrous cross
On which the Prince of Glory died,

My richest gain I count but loss,
And pour contempt on all my pride.

Forbid it, Lord, that I should boast,
Save in the death of Christ, my God;
All the vain things that charm me
I sacrifice them to His blood.

See, from His head, His hands, His feet,
Sorrow and love flow mingled
down;
Did e'er such love and sorrow meet,
Or thorns compose so rich a crown?

Were the whole realm of nature
mine,
That were a present far too small;
Love so amazing, so divine,
Demands my soul, my life, my all.

STREAMS OF MERCY

Large Song Book, 35: "Take Salvation," 170: "Calvary," 164.
Hark! the Gospel news is sounding,
Christ has suffered on the tree;
Streams of mercy are abounding,
Grace for all is rich and free,
Now, poor sinner, look to Him who died for thee.

Oh, escape to yonder mountain!
Refuge find in Him to-day;
Christ invites you to the fountain,
Come and wash your sins away;
Do not tarry, come to Jesus while you may.

Grace is flowing like a river,
Millions there have been supplied;
Still it flows as fresh as ever,
From the Saviour's wounded side;
None need perish; all may live, for Christ hath died.

Christ alone shall be our portion;
Soon we hope to meet above;
Then we'll bathe in the full ocean
Of the great Redeemer's love;
All His fitness we shall then for ever prove.
